

NetDisturb Software Protection Key License Transfer

This paper describes the various steps to transfer a Software Protection Key license from one version of NetDisturb to another when the 2 versions are located on the same PC, e.g. from NetDisturb version 4.9 or 5.0 to NetDisturb v6.1.

This is mandatory operation when you are using the Software Protection Key license and you want to test a new version using the Software Protection Key package. When you just want to make a trial, we recommend installing the 15-day trial package instead of the Software Protection Key package.

Requirements

- You need to have installed NetDisturb version 4.9 or 5.0 and NetDisturb v6.1 on the same PC.
- You should have an unlimited Software Protection Key for NetDisturb version 4.9 or 5.0 active on this PC.

Before to transfer the Software Protection Key license from NetDisturb version 4.9/5.0, you should check the license update rights are after 02/2013. You can check the license update date from the About dialog of NetDisturb Server.

Step 1: Start NetDisturb v4.9/v5.0 Server

When the logo of NetDisturb Server version 4.9 is displayed:

Press the Enter key.

Step 2: Transfer the license using the item 'Transfer to directory...' of the License menu

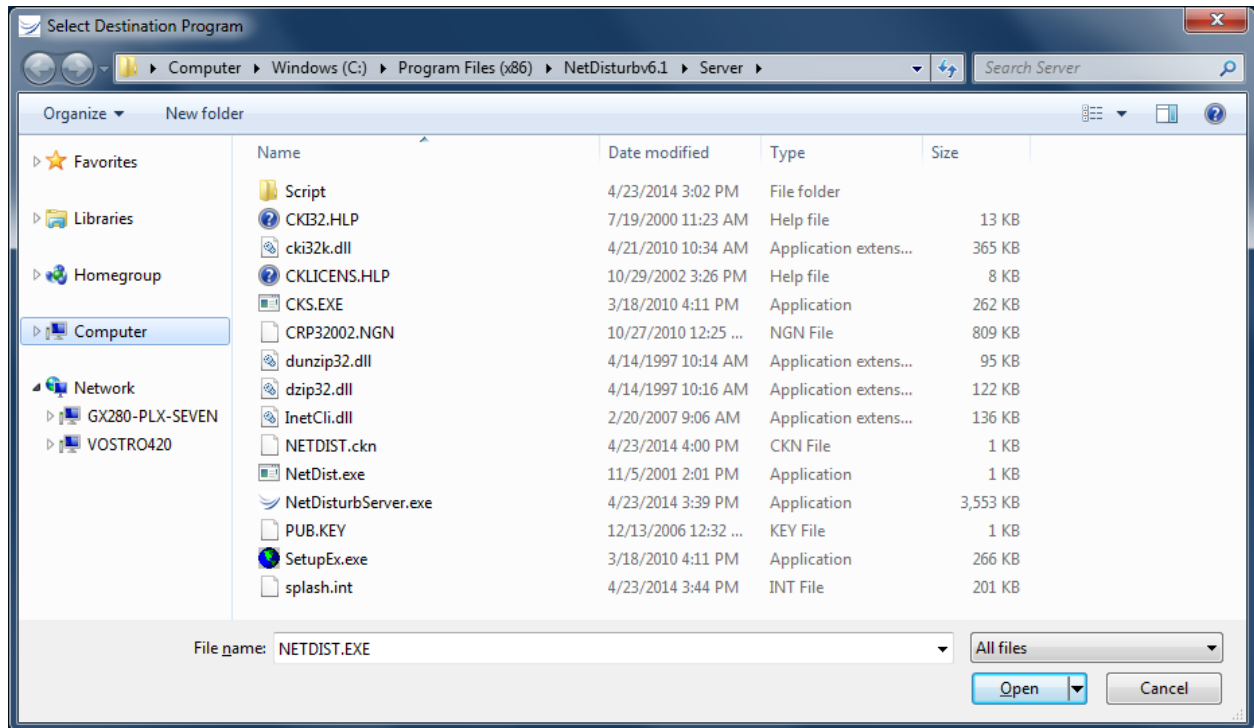

You open the License menu to select the item 'Transfer to directory...'

This item shows the Step1 of 2 of the transfer license dialog:

You press Next to select the Target directory of the license i.e. where NetDisturb Server v6.1 is installed (C:\Program Files\NetDisturbv6.1\Server by default)

You press the Open button to confirm the target license directory and to start the license transfer process.

The last 'Transfer to directory...' dialog confirms the transfer:

Step 3: Launch the Target NetDisturb version to check the result

From the All Programs / NetDisturb v6.1 / NetDisturb Server menu item, you start NetDisturb Server Only

The NetDisturb Server v6.1/About dialog shows the license transfer completed.
